

Project	Lead	Description	Contact
Active
Short Course, Participatory Social Research	Tina Cook & Michael Wright	A continuing education course introducing the participants to the concepts and methods of Participatory Health Research. The course began in January 2012 in Germany and the UK.  The course is operating again in Germany in 2014 (see the website for more information).	tina.cook@northumbria.ac.uk  michael.Wright@khsb-berlin.de
Hosting the 2014 Annual Working Meeting in Brazil	Clarice Reis & Nathan Souza	The Fifth Annual Working Meeting will take in Niteroi (Brazil) from August 20th to August 23rd. There will also be a pre-event in Rio de Janeiro from August 18th to August 20th.	clarice.reis@mail.mcgill.ca
Internet Site	Krystyna Kongats	The new internet site was reconceptualised and launched in October 2013.  We are in the midst of developing new language group sub sites: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• French: Petra Nass</li> <li>• Portuguese: Irma Brito</li> <li>• Spanish: Francisco Mercado</li> </ul> If you would like to develop a subsite in your language, or contribute to one of the subsites please get in touch with Krystyna.	krystyna.kongats@ualberta.ca
International Patterns of Participatory Health Research and Interactive Knowledge Base	Jane Springett & Tina Cook	A research project to describe systematically what PHR means in different countries, different cultural contexts. A pilot database to bring together published studies and other material on Participatory Health Research.  The IK is intended to be (1) an online central repository for the collection of PHR work (academic and non-academic), (2) a platform to stimulate reflection in project leads about the ways they were participatory and how their work created impact, and (3) an interactive space for novice and expert practitioners to discuss, network and learn from each other's experiences	tina.cook@northumbria.ac.uk  jane.springett@ualberta.ca
Wikipedia site	Tom Wakeford	A Wikipedia page for ICPHR was created:  https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/International_Collaboration_for_Participatory_Health_Research  Participatory Health Research here:	tomwakeford@me.com

Project	Lead	Description	Contact
		https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Participatory_Health_Research and Participatory Research here: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Participatory_research
Systematic review	Michael Wright	Systematic review of participatory research published in German.	michael.wright@khsb-berlin.de
Systematic Review of the Participatory Health Research Literature	Justin Jagosh	A review of the Participatory Health Research Literature in English in French to describe the key processes associated to outcomes of Participatory Health Research
Publications Strategies	Michael Wright	Strategies for Publishing PHR and the work of the ICPHR	michael.Wright@khsb-berlin.de
Workshop in Paris on Participatory Health Research	Nita Chaudhuri	A workshop to promote Participatory Health Research and the ICPHR in France	chaudhuri.nita@orange.fr
State of Participatory Health Research in Individual Countries	Jon Salsberg	Overview article of Participatory Health Research in individual countries	jon.salsberg@mcgill.ca
Implementation Research (Position Paper 3)	Janet Harris	(Describing the connection between PHR and patient involvement?)	Janet.harris@sheffield.ac.uk
Facilitation (Position Paper 4)	Tom Wakeford	This position paper attempts to bring together some critical reflections on the wide-ranging set of experiences among facilitators of participatory processes, particularly in the context of research	tomwakeford@me.com
New Journal	Janet	Developing a concept and a plan for launching a new journal	Janet.Harris@sheffield.ac.uk

Project	Lead	Description	Contact
Featuring Participatory Health Research	Harris & Petra Nass		pnass@hayesinc.com
Workshops for Community Partners	Kelly Cavalcanti	Developing a workshop for community partners in Germany, Portugal and Brazil	kellyrozy@gmx.net
Mapping Participatory Health Research in Brazil	Clarice Reis	The mapping exercise will be conducted to provide an overview of who is involved in Participatory Health Research in Brazil	clarice.reis@mail.mcgill.ca
Mapping Participatory Health Research in Portuguese in the Azores	Rosa Pinto	The mapping exercise will be conducted to provide an overview of who is involved in Participatory Health Research in the Azores. A particular focus will be on oral and grey literature sources	rmspinto@uac.pt
Preparing the Quality Paper for journal publication	Jane Springett	Updating and adapting the Quality Paper (Springett et al. 2011)	jane.springett@ualberta.ca
Varieties of Participatory Health Research in Spanish-speaking Latin American countries	Francisco Mercado Martinez	Describing the scope and focus of Participatory Health Research taking place in Spanish-speaking Latin American countries	francisco.mercado@cucs.udg.mx
Empowerment and Participatory	Elisabeth Kleba	Defining the various forms of empowerment enabled by Participatory Health Research, building on definitions existing for Brazil	lkleba@unochapeco.edu.br

Project	Lead	Description	Contact
Health Research
Completed
Review of the Literature in Portuguese on Participatory Health Research	Irma Brito	The review will use criteria drawn from the paper on Quality Criteria published previously by member of the ICPHR (Referenced on the website under Publication: Springett et al. 2011)	irmabrito@esenfc.pt
[Position Paper 2] Ethics in Practice	Sarah Banks	A revised version of a guide developed in 2012 on ethical principles and practice centering on community-based participatory research	s.j.banks@durham.ac.uk
[Position Paper 1] Defining the Participatory Health Research Paradigm	Michael Wright	Defining the core features of Participatory Health Research as compared to other forms of public health research.	michael.wright@khsb-berlin.de
IUHPE Meeting 2013 in Thailand	Irma Brito	Irma Brito represented the ICPHR at the IUHPE meeting in 2013. A PowerPoint presentation and paper on the ICPHR were presented.	irmabrito@esenfc.pt